ABSTRACT

The Indian Vocational Education Program (IVEP) supports American Indian and Alaska Native tribes and tribal organizations that provide secondary and postsecondary vocational education programs for the benefit of Native Americans. This booklet provides summaries of 41 projects funded by IVEP in 1999-2000. These projects offer postsecondary-level certificate or degree options and have the ultimate goal of providing training that leads to job placement or further education for youth. A brief program overview covers purpose, legislative authorization and federal program administration, federal funding, leadership and technical assistance, and collaborative efforts with other federal agencies that provide services to Native Americans. IVEP staff are listed with contact information. Each project summary contains the following information: grantee name, type of institution, project title, award number, project director and contact information, years funded, current award period, federal funds awarded this year, federal project officer, project objectives, vocational education training areas, projected outcomes, educational level of participants, available student support services, number of project sites, partnerships and collaboratives, and accreditation status. IVEP training areas are listed, and a map illustrates site locations. (SV)

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

Purpose:

The Indian Vocational Education Program (IVEP) supports Indian tribes and tribal organizations that provide secondary and postsecondary vocational education training programs for the benefit of Native Americans and Alaskan Natives. Grantees have developed programs to provide vocational training in areas such as: health care, childcare, heavy equipment management, business management, construction, plumbing, agribusiness, forestry and land management, as well as emerging opportunities in computer technology, animal husbandry, tourism, hospitality and casino management. These programs provide postsecondary level certificate or degree options. The ultimate goal of the program is to provide training that leads to job placement or further education for youth.

Legislative Authorization and Program Administration:

The program is authorized by the Carl D. Perkins Vocational and Applied Technology Education Act, as amended, 20 U.S.C. 2301 et seq., and is administered by the Special Programs Branch (SPB), Division of National Programs, in the Office of Vocational and Adult Education, U.S. Department of Education.

Funding:

The project summaries described here all received funding during federal fiscal year 1999. In fiscal year 1999, a total of $12,943,228 was appropriated for the IVEP. Of this amount, $11,897,261 was awarded competitively via 31 grants. The grants ranged from $208,108 to $775,511. An additional $1,316,171 was awarded to four second-year continuation grants, using fiscal year 1998 funds.

Leadership and Technical Assistance:

The Special Programs Branch staff members strive to ensure that the IVEP has a broad and significant impact upon Indian students and educational institutions. As part of Special Program Branch's outreach efforts under this program, staff will conduct technical assistance workshops in year 2000 for current and potential grant applicants. The workshops will include sessions on Proposal Writing Skills, Project Evaluation, and Partnerships. Also, materials are being developed to encourage and aid in the use of distance learning, technologies for on-site instruction, assistive technology for special needs students, and teacher training. Staff will also conduct site visits to several of the grantee institutions in the coming year.

In addition, staff will identify topics for research to address a range of questions concerning the nature of IVEP services. Other branch assistance during the fiscal year will include hosting annual Project Directors' Meetings, distributing information about promising practices, giving advice on grant management issues, publishing newsbriefs, conducting conference calls, and maintaining a web site.

Collaborative Efforts:

IVEP partnerships include working with several other agencies which focus on services to Native Americans. They are the Division of Vocational-Technical Education, the White House Initiative on Tribal Colleges and Universities, the Bureau of Indian Affairs, and the Office of Elementary and Secondary Education's Office of Indian Education.
